COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE

OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The Highway Dept. will be reconstructing the approach to the so-called Smith Crossing where the railroad crosses the old Route 2 toward West Bethel. This has been the location of accidents in the past. When the railroad raised their tracks it became worse. The plans call for considerable fill on the west side of the tracks to enable motorists to see approaching vehicles coming from the opposite direction.

The intersection of Chapman and Main Streets is being paved. Each year we repair the street at that location with the conventional material but have been unable to maintain it on a permanent basis. This time we will use the same material that was used on Main Street a few years ago and has given very good service.

A meeting was held in Portland Tuesday of this week with the consulting engineers on the sewage disposal system. They feel we have a good chance of starting construction this year. We have been sending applications to the various agencies from whom we must have approval prior to final approval from the State.

SCOUT TROOP 565 TO ATTEND

SPRING CAMPOREE

Eleven boys from Boy Scout Troop 565 are planning to go to Rangeley District Spring Camporee, being held this year in the Chapman Brook area on the Northwest Bethel Road. Camporee activities include living in tents from Friday evening through Sunday morning, cooking all meals, practicing Scout skills, meeting in competition by Patrols with other District Scouts, and enjoying the fellowship with Boy Scouts and adult Scouters.

Scoutmaster Romeo Baker will be the leader. Each boy must have written parental permission to take part in the Camporee — and will bring his own food and equipment.

The Reverend Garvey MacLean, Chaplain of Bates College, will give the Baccalaureate address at 10:30 a. m. in the Congregational Church.

William D. Hathaway, Congressman of Maine's 2nd District, will give the Commencement address at 2:30 p. m. in Bingham Hall.

MASSACHUSETTS SCOUT

RESCUED FROM SHELTER AT

EVANS NOTCH LAST WEEK END

A 14-year-old Boy Scout, Scott H. Herzog of Cohasset, Mass., was reported in satisfactory condition at Rumford Community Hospital Sunday night, after being rescued from the Pinkham Notch Trail Shelter at Wild River, late Saturday night. The boy suffered an injury to the big toe of his left foot as he was in the process of using a sharp ax, officials said.

Scoutmaster John Runey, Scituate, Mass., and four Scouts had hiked into the wilderness area, which is seven miles from the Wild River Campgrounds. The last two miles were covered with approximately one to three feet of snow.

After the mishap, Wilton Beauchamp, Hebron Academy, another camper in the area, hiked out late Saturday night to notify the U. S. Forest Service officials in Bethel that Herzog was injured.

Evans Notch District Forest Ranger John Anderson, Bethel, coordinated a rescue party made of 11 local men. It was thought that possibly a chain hand-to-hand rescue operation would be necessary to transport the youth down the snow covered trail.

After arriving at the shelter, Anderson noted the area at No Ketchum Pond nearby was suitable for a helicopter landing. He then notified the Ft. Devens, Mass., 10th Special Forces group which responded with a helicopter and a U. S. Army physician within an hour. Herzog was then flown to Rumford Community Hospital where he reportedly underwent surgery Sunday night.

The same Special Forces Group has been in training in the area all winter.

S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS

APPROVE TWO INSTRUCTORS

AT MONDAY SESSION

Meeting at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week the S. A. D. 44 board of directors approved Miss Sharon Hillbourn as kindergarten/transitional teacher at Woodstock Elementary School and Miss Nancy Fox as English teacher at Telstar for the 1971-72 school year.

Miss Hillbourn, of Portland, will graduate from the U. of M.-Gorham in June. Her duties will include a kindergarten class in the morning and assisting other teachers as a transitional teacher in the afternoon.

Miss Fox, of Bethel, is a graduate of Gould Academy in 1965, and received her degree from the U. of M.-Orono in 1969. For the past two years she has had a position at Rockland Junior High School.

The board accepted, with regret the resignation of Mrs. Diane Morton, of South Paris, as English teacher at Telstar Regional High School. She has been at the local school since last fall.

The Telstar Student Council executive representative on the board, John Trinward, reported that 15 members of the Council had observed the school carefully over the past two weeks. The Council members reported only 12 instances of card playing, and some of these were solitary. It was the Council's feeling that if it were a problem, it could be handled administratively at the secondary level and did not require enactment and implementation of a policy by the board.

In passing, Brian Flynn, Telstar principal, noted that he had attended a meeting of Mountain Valley Conference principals recently and other administrators had expressed interest in effects of a student representative on the board. No other board of directors in the MVC has such a representative.

The board approved the hiring of Alonzo Harriman Associates, Inc., of Auburn, as architects for renovations proposed at Woodstock Elementary School. It is required to retain an architect on projects of this nature where the cost will exceed $5,000, if the district is to receive state subsidy.

SAM JONES TO SPEAK AT GOULD

ATHLETIC BANQUET ON MAY 23

Sam Jones, former basketball player and super-star with the Boston Celtics, will be guest speaker at the spring athletic banquet at Gould Academy on Friday, May 23. Mr. Jones will also conduct a basketball clinic in Farnsworth Fieldhouse at 3:30 p. m. the same day. Any area basketball players and fans are cordially invited to attend the clinic.

Sam Jones

Sam, after retiring two years ago as the Celtics one-game and one-season scoring leader and NBA All Star for five of 11 seasons, a still reaping NBA honors. This season his number 24 was retired to the rafters of the Boston Garden along with the Celtics greats. Also in this, the 25th year of the NBA, Sam was selected as one of the 10 greatest to have played during the 25 years.

Currently Mr. Jones is serving as Director of Athletics at Federal City College in Washington, D. C. He was attracted to FCC because it is one of the few colleges that has an open admissions policy and because he saw an opportunity to help athletes. He said that he did not feel that the college entrance examination could accurately predict that a student could not perform well in college once he was in college, and that this was particularly true of athletes. He stated, "I want to help athletes not only be good athletes, but to help them get an education, which is most important."

Mr. Jones feels that his college education is invaluable, and despite a two-year interruption when he was drafted into the armed forces at the end of this third year at North Carolina College, he managed to complete his undergraduate education. He attended North Carolina College from 1951-54 and 1956-57 and received his B. S. degree in Physical Education in 1957.

Christian Science
"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Bible Lesson for Sunday
at Christian Science church services.
One of the Scriptural verses is from Isaiah: "In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul."

A related passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Unless the harmony and immortality of man are becoming more apparent, we are not gaining the true idea of God; and the body will reflect what governs it, whether it be truth or error, understanding or belief, spirit or matter.
Therefore, acquire new strength with Him, and live in peace."

TOWN & COUNTRY INN
IN SHELBOURNE DAMAGED BY FIRE TUESDAY NIGHT

Plans are underway to repair the damage done by fire, Tuesday night,
to the Town and Country Motor Inn, Shelburne, N. H., according to the owner, Ralph "Navy" Labron.

Fire departments from Gocham, Cascade, Berlin and Shelburne, were called to the scene.

Fire apparently started around the kitchen range as hot fat ignited and the flames spread through the area and set the entire kitchen afire. According to authorities, the blaze was confined to the kitchen.

There was no immediate estimate of damage caused by the fire. Water in the Lantern Room in the basement was pumped out Wednesday.

The damaged section of the inn,
which is a wooden structure, was built at the turn of the century, and is insured against loss.

RUNNING AMUCK
with Sandra M. Dunham

Is the traditional Maybasket fad ing into oblivion? Not on Rocky Top.
Actually it has always been my belief that anyone under six months and over thirty should be exempt from Maybaskets. This was one of many things sliding through my mind as the scream "Maybasket!"

hit my ears and bounced off my hands knocking donuts, I am not young anymore. At age 15, I fell into a pit on a Maybasket; there are no pits in the area large enough for me now. I also lost the seat of my pants on a pasture fence at age
12. This all came back to haunt me as I gingerly picked the barbed wire off my tattered shirt sleeve. It is not easy running up-hill in fur-covered slippers shaped like snowshoes and approximately the same size. Fur covered slippers do not grip well on apple tree bark and I had no time to attach my ice grip-pers. I cannot "slippy" a tree any more. The absence of skin from both legs and a leering 12 year old is the proof. Trees are off limits on May-baskets. This law went into effect as I picked myself up at the base of a
"Natural Fruit" tree, with cows loping in to see what had fallen from the sky. Blood was now pouring from my "Middle C" finger and I mentally cancelled all dreams of a Carnegie Hall concert. Herd, according to the neighbors' dogs, was still on the path of three while I concentrated on the fourth offspring.

Several hours (7) later, we rendevoined on the front porch, four in two. I am a mass of bruises and five pounds heavier from the contents of the basket. Long live the tradition! (I think).

NARCOTICS AND YOU

This is the third in a series of articles prepared by Richard Mc-Cann, drug counselor at Telstar Regional High School.

Stimulants
Stimulants are drugs, which are commonly of the amphetamine group. They effect the central nervous system thereby speeding up body functions. Medically they are used to combat fatigue, treat alcoholism, curb appetite to reduce obesity, or to treat severe mental depression, hence the term "pep pills".
Slang terms for these "pep pills"
include "bennies", "dexies", "foot-balls", "roses", "peaches", and
"hearts".

The most commonly abused stimulants include: cocaine, the amphet-amines, nicotine and caffeine (in the forms of coffee, tea and Nodex).

Cocaine is obtained from the coca plant, which should not be confused with cacao, from which chocolate is obtained. The drug originally was used medically as a local anesthetic, but it has since been replaced by synthetic products, one of which is Novocain. One of the major dangers involved in its use is its ability in an overdose to depress respiratory and heart functions to the point that they simply stop working and death results. Cocaine ("coke" or "snow") can be either sniffed or injected.

Amphetamines are available in several forms. They can be obtained in pill or capsule form or as crystals. Methamphetamine ("meth"),
a concentrated drug, is the substance commonly referred to today as "speed", and it is true that "Speed"
can kill.

As a group, stimulants induce a sense of well-being, alertness and self-confidence. They do so by imitating some of the natural body hormones. This results in increased blood pressure, heart beat, respiratory rate, and metabolism rate. Other effects include dry mouth, unusual perspiration, headache, decreased appetite, talkativeness and dilatation.

Many professional athletes rely on stimulants to provide a temporary
"lift" from the effect of fatigue, thereby hoping to improve their performances in games or contests.
Unfortunately, a person under the influence of a stimulant often exerts himself beyond the limits that his body can safely endure and injures himself.

Once the stimulant habit has been established, the typical user keeps taking moderate amounts to stay
"high". The sense of power and self-confidence which is artificially produced is so pleasant that the user is reluctant to return to reality.
Another factor which promotes continued use is the extremely unpleasant "crash" which occurs after discontinuation of the drug. The severe mental depression and fatigue is so extreme that "speed freaks"
will go to great lengths to avoid the inevitable crash. During this period, attempted suicide is not uncommon.

Early and incomplete studies seem to indicate that liver and brain damage may result from continued usage.

In attempting to identify a stimulant abuser, one should look for some of the following symptoms:
needle marks ("tracks"), excessive
or compulsive physical activity,
shakiness, itching, cramps, general
uneasiness, physical deterioration, loss of appetite and weight, mania-trition, failure to sleep, neglected
personal hygiene, irritability and unusual fits of anger, dilated pupils,
bad breath, chapped lips, and occasionally, hallucinations. Some of the above effects are present in heavy users only. The "speed freaks"
often become suspicious of others around him and consequently suffers from paranoia. Other more severe mental disorders are common with heavy usage.

TEACHER PROFILE

Mrs. Louise Mills

The third grade teacher at the Andover Elementary School, Mrs.
Louise Mills, was born in Andover, Mass., moved to Rumford shortly after,
and soon moved to Portland where she graduated from Portland High and later from Gosham State Teachers College.

She began her teaching career at South Andover in a one-room school,
with all grades from kindergarten through grade 8, where she also served as janitor. From South Andover, Mrs. Mills went to Wakefield, Mass., where she taught the third grade at the Greenwood School.

Her teaching career was interrupted at this time to raise a family.
She has two children, Roger Jr.,
who resides in Andover and owns Mills' Market, and a daughter, Mrs.
Keith Wilson (Sally) of Salem, N. H.

15 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Her husband, Roger Sr., is mail carrier between Bethel and Andover. Although she did not teach during this time, she did work much of the time at the I. E.
Mills General Store, owned by her father-in-law. After the store was sold, Mrs. Mills returned to teaching, going to Monmouth before returning to the Elm Street School in Andover, then to the present school where she has been for the last few years.

Mrs. Mills has been back to Gorham for summer sessions, and the Bryant Pond Conservation Camp, as well as taking extension courses.

TELSTAR BASEBALL

Telstar scored in all but one inning last Saturday as the Rebels unleashed a 14-hit attack and bombed host Livermore, 15-8.

John Trivard led the Telstar attack with three hits. Other repeaters were Dana Melville, Preston Merrill, Ron Deegan and Wayne Cummings. Livermore, down 12-2, rallied for six runs in the fifth inning, but fell short as Telstar hurler Peter Blake bore down to retire the side.

Fourteen errors, eight by Telstar, were committed in the sloppily played game.

Telstar Regional High School exploded for seven runs in the first inning, taking an easy 11-2 baseball victory over Jay on the Bethel field Monday.

The first lining rally was paced by Peter Blake's two triples. Peter's brother, Steve, added a run in the second with a bases-empty homer and Preston Merrill's three-run homer in the sixth lining put the lid on Telstar scoring.

Jay picked up its runs in the third on a wild pitch and single.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY HOLDS MAY MEETING

Tape recordings of sounds no longer heard were played as a part of Robert Dingley's presentation on community historical preservation at the May meeting of the Bethel Historical Society last Thursday evening. Old looms, steam boats and the old narrow gauge railroad in the Harrison Bridge area, were some of the sounds.

Mr. Dingley also discussed various projects of the Staples society, including sales of plates picturing local scenes, and tours of old homes in the area, with a tea at the original tavern, and their museum, opened during the summer months a year ago, and displaying various artifacts and papers of the area—over 500 visitors registered.

Edward Quinn, vice president, presided and read letters from other societies with suggestions for homecomings, which this society is sponsoring this fall. He announced the appointment of Elizabeth Carter as chairman of the Homecoming Committee. She will announce her committee members shortly. It is recognized that this is a big undertaking, and Mrs. Carter will welcome expressions of interest from other community groups, and offers of help in planning an interesting week end of activity for former local area residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Butler of Farmington will be speakers at the June meeting. They were recognized last fall at the annual meeting of the New England Historical Societies with a presentation of a certificate for achievement in Historic Preservation in their area.

The Quinns extended an invitation to the local members and the members of the Rumford Society to attend a meeting at their home on the Bog Road, Gilend, the second week who spent the winter in Florida have returned to their home in Colebrook.

Lumbering operations are starting up again.

Mrs. Gladys Bennett is on her way home from Fort Wayne, Ind., where she spent the winter with her oldest son, Clinton.

Mrs. Virginia Lane of Errol called on her brother Eric Cameron and her sister, Elizabeth Vaughn and me Friday. She is recovering from surgery but expects to return soon to Hanover for more surgery.

Mrs. Hazel Harvey will not be home from the Hanover Hospital until some time in June.

Our weather is cloudy and cool as usual but the grass and leaves are growing well, the frogs are singing very happily.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Collette Morgan, Carver. —

The out of doors has a place in my heart. Of my heritage, this is a great part.

One day recently I found my way to the "top of the world." Going down the road I crossed "Turtle Bridge" between the ponds, stopping to look for a "Snapper" in the swift water.

"There is nothing more enchanting than a bubbling country brook."

An old winding road led left to the forest land somewhat back from the pond.

Suddenly a whirling form crossed my path as my friend Red Squirrel frisked about. With his dapper air he played like a lamb or kitten, staying just long enough to listen and see then up a tree he went and out of sight momentarily he whirled, a busy acrobat in his world. I sat on the trunk of an old fallen tree until he accepted me and seemed to have no fear. With head down and bushy tail in air, dressed in his velvet garment his bright eyes were like limpid pools. Gentle alert, and wise, he performed with new delight until I left him to the beauty of his surroundings.

Through the tangled trees and over stones I shared the joys of nature with him.

From high up came the vibrant melody of the woodland symphony. Now I walked along a ridge and looked down on Mud Pond with its little bays and islands.

A big velvet bumble bee came buzzing down probing for a fat flower (possibly he thought my nose was one) one which he could rest his pollen-dusty feet.

The Sunbeams danced as they filtered through the woodland over the pines and spruces, at times resting on the little rain pools diked with the pollen crop of the trees.

High up the hill tops had been cleared of trees and there was a rubble of brush all about. But looking out over the valley from a tall lonely rock there was much to see.

The firs seemed to be assembled in groups and clumps and then group was joined to group. In places they filled the valley like a dark river.

The woods alternated with the fields to clothe the hills and intervals while all up the valley the ponds were a mirrored center piece. All this made a constant and lively variety over the landscape. In places trees would jut out into open and promontories and stand in little islands or cluster around an outcropping ledge or boulder.

A white spot in the far distance drew my attention. Using my binoculars I found it to be a rock above the surface in Hicks Pond.

All this is just common to New England, this meeting of the natural and indented shore of the forest land; close, feathery and impenetrable, with little bays, inlets, fields, pastures and meadows.

The warm sun brought out the fragrance of the pitchy bark and I sat for a long time here at the "top of the world" absorbed by new pictures of the distant mountains.

Coming in with cupped wings, a pair of ducks dropped down into their feeding area on Mud Pond. Then from out of the stillness, standing motionless and unseen by prying eyes, came the deep "oong-ka-chook," the sound of the Bittern or "Stake Driver" as we call him here. He is a stocky brown bird and while standing points his bill skyward. He was the first I had heard this spring.

At the same moment above, in a single hemlock left on this hill where I sat, came the "sweet, sweet, sweet etc." of the song sparrow determined to be noticed as he perched on a bough and surveyed his kingdom of earth and sky.

More than two hours had elapsed since I had left home so I wandered on down, taking a different road this time and wondering where I'd come out. It finally joined the old road to Patch Mountain but a bit higher up than where I entered.

Coming again to the bridge, I heard the "ker-plunk" of the bullfrog adding its benediction to the day and in the waters this time swam a snapping turtle making his way upstream.

It was nearly four o'clock when I reached home leaving in the woods the feathered tenants trilling their varied notes, each helping in a chorus which makes perfect harmony. I left, too, the flowers which are just unfolding, once again a happy memory re-discovered here in the rural haunts of the country.

Ruth Hastings, South Paris, and Colista Morgan attended the convention of Delta Kappa Gamma at the Rangeley Inn and Motel, Rangeley, on Saturday.

Callers this week at Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hayes' were their sons and families, Duane, West Paris; Ardel, Auburn; and Glen, Gray; Mr. and Mrs. John Records, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Vance Bacon, Mrs. Rena Bacon, West Paris.

"Pepper Cat" of the Hayes Homestead met with an accident and is in the animal hospital. Just a different item.

Mrs. Lynn Chapman is at present on tour of six European countries. Katherine and Raymond Hakala were in Boston on Saturday.

Callers this week at Mr. and Mrs. Norman Miller's were: Mrs. Carol Penley, Mrs. Mary Emery, Mrs.

BROWN - SWAN

The Locke Mills Union Church was the setting May 1 of the spring "rainbow" wedding of Miss Dorothy Ann Swan and Owen J. Brown. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ann H. Bickford, South Paris, and Dean Raymond Swan, Locke Mills. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of Bethel. The church was decorated with pastel flowers. Rev. Beatrice Harris performed the double ring ceremony. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Beverly McVilly.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen J. Brown

Excited and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length "Empire look" gown of bridal satin and lace, fashioned with mandarin collar, bridal point sleeves, a built-in train with a satin bow flowing down the center of the train. Her chapel length veil was attached to a crown of seeded pearls and crystal beads. She carried a bouquet of white mums with a center of red sweetest roses and satin streamers.

Miss Bonita Packard was maid of honor. Best men were Miss Margaret Swan and Mrs. Stephen Frost, sisters of the bride. The flower girl was Julie Swan and the ring bearer was Jerry Swan. Her attendants wore identical gowns of pastel peach de luxe, with Empire waists, baby doll sleeves, mandarin collar, with matching satin bows, colors of light blue, pink, green and yellow. Each carried a single red rose with a satin bow to match the gown. The flower girl carried a basket of white mums and red roses.

Greg Cummings of Bethel was best man. The ushers were Thomas Swan, brother of the bride, and Rex Cummings, friend of the groom.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Legion Hall, Judy Brooks and Jane Hathaway, cousins of the bride, circulated the guest book. Refreshments were served by cousins, Gail McInnis, Karen Hathaway, Suzanne McInnis, and sister, Lisa Day and Althen Hathaway in charge of the

S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS MEET

Also approved was a contract with the Oxford County Mental Health Association for psychological services for elementary school children.

The board voted to accept pupils from Gilead for the 1971-72 school year. Board policy requires action during the month of May each year, where 50% or more of a town's pupils are accepted on a tuition basis.

Approval was granted for a trip to Boston by 41 Telstar students during the week of June 6. A James Fiske will accompany the students, and they will meet the authors of Telstar's physics program and visit the Cambridge electronic accelerator and the Boston Museum of Science.

The board instructed the superintendent to send two letters of commendation to John Trinward; one congratulating him for his selection as one of two students from Maine to attend the National Youth Science Camp at Camp Pocahontas, in West Virginia, and another commending him for his service to the board of directors as Student Council representative during this school year.

The board also asked the superintendent and building and grounds committee to look into the matter of a sidewalk on Phillips Street, leading to the Ethel Bibbee School, and the possibility of presenting a request to the Bethel selectmen. It was suggested that a hazard exists on this street due to a lack of a sidewalk when both walking students and vehicles are utilizing the right-of-way.

The board went on record as favoring a board by-law revision to permit a Telstar Student member to serve on the board during the 1971-72 school year, as was done during the current year.

Following an executive session of nearly two hours, no final resolution of negotiations with custodians/bus drivers, cafeteria personnel and school administrators (principals) was forthcoming.

The board will next meet in regular session at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening, June 7, at 7:30.

HEALTH AND SERVICE COUNCIL HELD MEETING MAY 6

The Bethel Health and Service Council meeting was held May 6 at the Bethel Savings Bank. President Frances Gunther announced the transportation committee for the year as follows: Mrs. Sarah Stevens, chairman, Mrs. Caroline Merrill, Mrs. Phyllis Dock, Mrs. Kenneth Ramage, Mrs. John Greenleaf, Mrs. Doris Lord and Mrs. Frank Hollis. The transportation committee is set up to assist people needing transportation to attend clinics, for eye examinations, for special treatment etc.

It was voted to hold a supper on Mollycckett Day for the benefit of the Council. Committees will be drawn up in the near future.

The baby sitting course for the seventh grade at Telstar is in progress and the classes are being well attended.

The clothing barn located on the Dana Douglass property is closed to the public until further notice.

ANDOVER FAMILY WINS FFA AWARD FOR OXFORD COUNTY

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bailey and family of Andover were recognized May 12 as the Farm Family of the Year in the Farmers Home Administration program for this Oxford County area. This award was made by Philip Lovejoy, County Committee chairman, to Clarence and Mary Bailey and daughter, Judy, age 2, at a coffee given in their honor at the Farmers Home Administration office in South Paris.

The Baileys were recognized for successfully operating a dairy farm with FFA credit and counseling. Since starting with the Farmers Home Administration loan in 1961, they have built a loose housing barn with a milking parlour, a new nine room home for their family of 14, and modernized the farm machinery. Their dairy herd has been increased from 19 milking cows to 35 with an annual production of 12,000 pounds.

As a county winner this year entitles the Bailey family to compete with other county winners for a State of Maine FFA Farm Family of the Year Award. The state contest will take place some time later in the summer.

CASUALTY HANDLING COURSE AT NORWAY ARMORY, MAY 26-27

Saving lives by training ambulance, fire, rescue, and police personnel on proper methods of handling accident victims will be the goal of six state agencies Wednesday and Thursday, May 26 and 27, at the Norway Armory. The Maine Department of Health and Welfare, in co-operation with the State Highway Commission, the State Police, the Maine State Civil Defense and Safety Agency, and the Maine Highway Safety Committee, is offering the Extrication and Casualty Handling Course. Its purpose is to instruct emergency personnel on the proper techniques and current methods of handling victims without furthering their injuries. There is no charge for participants.

ANYONE WHO HANDLES FOOD MUST BE CAREFUL

Food and drink that are not carefully handled and prepared can be a source of food-borne illness. The bacteria spread easily from hands to food and then multiply quickly. Effective hand washing is considered to be the most important single control in fighting this type of infection.

Never handle food with any sort of open cut or infected finger. Always wash hands after touching nose, face, or hair. It would also be a good idea to keep a good anti-bacterial skin cleanser in the kitchen. We, of course, use one in our pharmacy and can recommend one for your home use.

Due to the increased number of prescriptions and in order to keep up good service, it would be to our mutual advantage, if you would please phone in re-fill prescriptions. — Thank you.

THE KEY TO A GOOD LAWN IS PROPER FERTILIZING

That's why TURF BUILDER is America's favorite lawn fertilizer. Turf Builder is made by Scott's exclusive Trilonized process which enables it to release its nutrients only as the grass needs them. There's no surge growth to cause extra mowing, and there's no wasteful over-feeding or nutrient loss from leaching. Just a thicker, greener, sturdier lawn. Spread Turf Builder on your lawn this weekend, and see for yourself.
